

Croatia, Slovenia, Germany, Italy, Austria, Switzerland, March, 4th, 2021

Information to the Parachute World Cup Series 2021

Unfortunately, we will still have to live with the effects of the corona pandemic this year as in 2020.

We still hope that some of the organizers will be able to organize a PWCS competition.

Specific PWCS - rules for 2021 due to the Covid 19 situation:

- Every organizer can run their own competition under a different name and own rules.
- If an organizer can hold a competition under the name of "PWCS" due to the regional situation, this is desirable.
- Such a competition is called "PWCS single competition" and must take place according to the rules of "PWCS".
- The bulletin must clearly state whether it is a "PWCS single competition" with the PWCS rules or not.
- If three or more competitions take place there will be an overall ranking.
- If possible, there will be a prize money.
The prize money for the overall ranking will be reduced accordingly and recalculated according to the organizer's options.
The decision as to whether there is prize money depends on the number of competitions and the number of participating teams.
If a competition is canceled or the number of participating teams is less than 15, no prize money will be put into the pot by the organizer.
If 15 teams but fewer than 25 teams take part in a competition, 1000,- EUR will be put into the pot by the organizer.
If 25 or more teams take part in a competition, 2000,- EUR will be put into the pot by the organizer.
All the money from the pot will be distributed proportionally at the last PWCS - competition 2021.
- If a competition is postponed or canceled completely, the respective organizer will publish a first information on their own website a.s.a.p., at least 30 days before the competition. Last decision for cancellation on short notice is one week (Sunday) before competition
- Juniors who had junior status for the last time in 2020 will retain their junior status in 2021 (born in the year of 1996 or later) - applied for PWCS 2021

We wish you all the best of health and hopefully a successful year with many good and accident-free jumps despite the crisis.

On behalf of the organizers,

Gerhard "Conan" Wagner,

Current President of PWCS